What Victim to Offender Relationship code is used when the victim was also the offender?

The category Victim was Offender (VO) is to be used in cases where all participants in an incident were victims and offenders of the same offense. For example in a domestic dispute where both husband and wife are charged with a Partner & Family Member Assault offense.

When a Victim was Offender (VO) relationship code is used, a minimum of two victims and two offenders need to be entered in the incident.
